Special Thanks

It has been 3 years since this work has been serialized. Volume 3 is finally out!

Basically I've only been thinking about how to finish the chapters before the deadline, but now that I can review all I have done again, I feel really emotional

About these drawings... they're really weird... I was really surprised after looking back at the originals from the old days, but I tell myself that this is also a part of growing up

Well then, I'll keep trying my best so that I can see you all again in the future!

Thank you for all your support!
